MRS. SUSAN VANCE WARREN.

On Sunday, April 2nd, in the calm of a beautiful Spring afternoon, the spirit of Mrs. Susan Vance Warren was summoned back to her Creator. Seized with a severe cold about 10 days previously, from the beginning her symptoms were alarming, and her family and friends were fearful that, enfeebled by years, she could not throw off the attack. On Sunday morning she fell into a gentle sleep, and so noiselessly did the call from the Great Beyond come, that even those who watched by her bed scarcely knew when her soul took flight.

Mrs. Warren was born Jan. 22, 1820, in Stanford, and within a stone's throw of the house in which she died. Her ancestors were Virginians, her grandfather having moved to this State from Loudon county, Va., at the close of the 18th century. They were men of prominence and influence in this community, her uncle, Michael Davidson, being a captain of a company of volunteers in the war of 1812, and another uncle, James Davidson, was a colonel of a volunteer regiment in the same war.

In 1837 she was united in marriage with Hamilton Jenkins, of this county, who died in 1839. Several years later she married Granville Purdom. To them were born four children, Thomas, George, Robert and Bettie, the first two dying in early manhood. Mr. Purdom having died in 1852, his widow married Wm. Warren, who preceded her to the grave some 30 years.

Her only daughter, Bettie, who married I. M. Bruce, of this place, died in 1891. On her was centered all the wealth of a mother's affection, and the shadow of this loss never lifted from off her heart. Mrs. Bruce left one child, Mary, who was the comfort of Mrs. Warren's old age, and upon whom she lavished the measureless love of both mother and grand mother. In her declining years Mrs. Warren lived with her son-in-law, Mr. Bruce, and he and his wife were unfailing in kind and thoughtful attentions.

With the exception of a short period spent in Springfield, Ky., Mrs. Warren lived in Stanford her whole life, and her knowledge of its early history was unequalled by any one. Possessed of a splendid memory and endowed with clear expression in speech, it was, indeed, a treat to sit in her presence and listen to her relate incidents of Stanford's early days, and describe citizens then prominent in this community.

For many years she kept hotel here and the "Warren House" and its proprietress are still affectionately remembered by those who enjoyed the privilege of boarding there. In fact, it is a strong tribute to Mrs. Warren's character that those who lived in the same house with her 40 years ago were among her staunchest friends in the closing years of her life.

During the Civil War she was pronounced in her sympathies for the South and on every possible occasion she rendered assistance to the Confederacy. It was in recognition of such aid that the local chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy conferred upon her the signal distinction of honorary membership.

Though the past was so rich in experiences and so treasured because of associations now no more, still the lengthening shadows of the evening did not drive from her interest in the present. Nature had given her a strong, vigorous mind, which would not permit her to spend her time searching among the dead embers of a day that was gone. She displayed intense concern of matters of today, and she could discuss with keen intelligence questions and problems relating to present times.

Among Mrs. Warren's characteristics two stood forth especially prominent—devotion to her native town and unswerving loyalty to her friends. Born and reared in Stanford, always claiming it as her home, receiving from it the companions of her childhood and her old age, and associating it with hallowed memories, she loved her native town and no one could speak unfavorably of it in her presence without calling from her a rebuke. Frank and open in temperament, she did not depend on blandishment to win her friends, but gained them by the strength and sincerity and steadfastness of her character. Of a retiring, home loving nature, she made no attempt to make numerous friends, but was content with those who, in the passing years made her acquaintance, esteemed her and loved her. But those who did not endeavor to extend the number, yet every friend of hers was fast and true, and this was a quality conspicuous in her own nature. Like all strong characters, she never lost a friend, but made stronger day by day the bond of union.

Mrs. Warren's father and grandfather were elders in the Presbyterian church and in early life she also joined that denomination. Having carefully studied its doctrines, she believed undoubtedly in its tenets, but she did not allow sectarianism to assume the form of bigotry and warp her soul. Though preferring one church to the others, she thought the road of Faith was broad enough for all the Savior's children to walk therein together.

Death has indeed taken her from us, but even death has its limitations, for it can not pluck from our souls the impress made by her character, nor efface from our minds the memory of those qualities of heart and soul, and their beneficent lessons. Her fidelity to her friends, her love of her family and her devotion to principle still survive, enriching those who lived within the sphere of her influence, a heritage that will increase with the roll of time. A.

"Old Glory" Again.

We find the following beautiful lines on the pages of the Morning Report Book of Company A, 3rd Regiment Ky. Volunteers, of which Thomas E. Bramlett, afterwards governor of Kentucky, was colonel. The event mentioned here occurred in October, 1861, at Lexington, Ky., Samuel McKee, of Danville, Ky., being captain of Co. A, and Benj. F. Powell, of Lincoln county, being 1st lieutenant, and it is through the kindness of Capt. Powell, in whose possession we find this Morning Report Book that we are enabled to present the following: On Oct. 18th, 1861, in a grove near Camp Anderson at Lexington, Ky., Col. Bramlett was presented with a beautiful National banner by the ladies of Lexington. Upon receiving it Col. Bramlett made a brief and appropriate address and Sergt. W. F. Morrin, of Co. A, a citizen of Danville, read the following poetical address, which he had previously written for the occasion:

Thou loved and cherished banner by beauty enrolled

And bearing the bosom of azure and gold,

Float wide to the breeze in the hands of the brave

Till freedom shall wave thee o'er tyranny's grave.

On, on while a foeman to liberty's cause Raise a hand against thee and our Union's laws.

May a coward ne'er sully thy folds with his breath

But thy stars shine more brightly on victory or death.

In the thick of the battle we will guard thee with pride,

Though thousands may gather and fall by thy side

While beauty and duty the watchwords may prove

To waken each spirit to valor and love.

On on to the battle, the smile and earnest

Of youth and of beauty, each hero shall bless,

While mothers and sweethearts and sires

Kindle widely new torches from liberty's fires.

'Tis the flag of our fathers, the flag of the brave

The flag that still waves over Washington's grave,

The flag that our mothers have gazed on with pride

And the flag where our bravest in victory died.

Though battered and torn in the heat of the strife

We will treasure each shred and defend it with life

Though shorn of its beauty, to your beauty true,

We will fight for its honor, our country and you.

With Bramlett, Scott, Buford, McKee and a host

Of leaders as brave as the bravest can boast

We will follow our banner with love and with pride

And return it with honor or die by its side.

It may be interesting to any of this regiment who may be living, to know that the flag here referred to was taken by Capt. Powell to Frankfort during Col. Bramlett's administration as governor and delivered to him, where it is supposed it still remains.

Cheated Death.

Kidney trouble often ends fatally, but by choosing the right medicine, Mr. E. H. Wolfe, of Bear Grove, Ia., cheated death. He says: "Two years ago I had Kidney Trouble, which caused me great pain, suffering and anxiety, but I took Electric Bitters, which effected a complete cure. I have also found them of great benefit in general debility and nerve trouble and keep them constantly on hand, since I find they have no equal." G. L. Penny, Stanford, and Lyne Bros., Crab Orchard, druggists, guarantee them at 50 cents.

MATRIMONIAL.

W. F. Reams and Mrs. Martha Crawford were married near Lily. They are each 66 years old, and this is the third marriage for Mr. Reams.

Rev. O. P. McMahan, of the Christian church, united in marriage at the Cumberland Hotel, Miss Emma Taylor, of Monticello, and Jesse D. Davis, of Barbourville.—Somerset Journal.

There are few diseases that inflict more torture than rheumatism and there is probably no disease for which such a varied and useless lot of remedies have been suggested. To say that it can be cured is, therefore, a bold statement to make, but Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which enjoys an extensive sale, has met with great success in the treatment of this disease. One application of Pain Balm will relieve the pain, and hundreds of sufferers have testified to permanent cures by its use. Why suffer when Pain Balm affords such quick relief and costs but a trifling sum.

For sale by Lyne Bros., Crab Orchard.

The Interior Journal.

E. C. WALTON.

THE Philadelphia preacher who said in his sermon that a man may be a sincere christian and an active politician at the same time is not as astute as the Philadelphia lawyer, whose astuteness and general understanding have become axiomatic. The lawyer knows and everybody else knows, who knows anything, that latter day politics and christianity do not mix even a little bit. A camel can get through the eye of a needle with more ease than the average politician can read his title clear to mansions in the skies. It has truly been said that politics is a nasty game and it seems to get nastier as the days go by.

JUDGE PAYNTER gives good and sufficient reasons for declining Senator Blackburn's invitation to meet him on the stump. The judge has other business to attend to which makes it more imperative during the illness and absence of Judge Cantrill. The two candidates are agreed on nearly all public questions and it is a waste of both the people's and the gentlemen's time to discuss them. Talking is one of the Senator's long suits and if he chooses to follow his natural bent, he can do so to his heart's content without let or hindrance.

THE report of the Interstate Commerce Commission for the three months ending Dec. 31, and just made public, shows that during the quarter 951 persons were killed and 14,027 injured. This reads more like a report of a battle between the Russians and Japanese than the record of killed and wounded on railroads in this country and shows that the progress of railway construction and operation has far exceeded the adoption of the most approved safety appliances, which should be made compulsory.

THIS promises to be a year of plenty. The April report of the Federal Department of Agriculture shows the condition of wheat at the close of March at 91.6 per cent. against 76.5 a year ago. This average has only been equalled five times in 20 years. The acreage under cultivation is nearly six million greater than in 1904. Unless the many things that may happen to change the situation materially light rolls are going to be cheaper than corn dodgers.

IT is said that the wolves are first corralled and the bears caged by frontier experts before they are brought within range of the president's rifle, and even the rattlesnakes are laid around conveniently for him to kill. Mr. Roosevelt then gets in his work like a little man and the press agents rush to the wires to chronicle his exploits. It's a great show, however, and for those who like that kind of thing, we should think it the kind of thing they would like.

THE preacher who wants to advertise himself, and very many preachers do, now comes to the front and discourses on the tainted money of Mr. Rockefeller and the sin of accepting it. All the same you could count on the fingers of one hand and have fingers left all who wouldn't accept the standard oil man's money, when it comes to the test. There is a great deal of sham even in the pulpit.

ACCORDING to the dispatches Tilford Benge turned and shot Representative J. J. C. Howard to death in Clay county, after they had made friends and sealed the agreement with a kiss. Strikes us that a man who would let another man other than his father or brother kiss him deserves to die as well as the one who kills him. We'd as soon kiss a cow as a man.

MR. WATTERSON's last letter to the Courier Journal was evidently held up till after Mr. Roosevelt had come and gone. Its perusal on the morning of his visit would have cast a gloom over the community that even the honeyed speech of Acting Mayor Barth could not have dispelled.

COMMISSIONER GARFIELD has been intrusted to investigate the coal oil trust and says he will make it full and thorough. Remembering what a white wash he gave the beef trust, Rockefeller and his associates in sin wink their eye off and "jess laff."

EDITOR LANDRAM's article on Hemp Raising in the Courier-Journal was a splendid one. The old fellow seems to have a pretty good idea of the business.

SINCE Mrs. Chadwick has been incarcerated Ohio has started seven new banks. They imagine themselves safe for awhile at least.

POLITICAL.

Hon. G. G. Gilbert, in a Washington interview, states that he probably will not be a candidate for re-election to Congress or any other office, as he expects to form a law partnership with his son on his return to Shelbyville.

Jackson county republicans nominated the following ticket: For judge, James F. Engle; attorney, G. I. Rader; sheriff, Tyra Lainhart; jailer, John Farmer, Jr.; superintendent, H. F. Minter; assessor, John Lakes.

It is understood among diplomats in Washington that the reply of President Castro, of Venezuela, to the demand of the United States for arbitration is "undiplomatic and almost threatening in wording." It is stated that practically no action in the matter will be taken until President Roosevelt returns to Washington.

After hearing lengthy argument by counsel, Circuit Judge Stout dissolved the temporary restraining order issued by the clerk in the contest case of Taylor against Johnson for the Democratic nomination for legislator from Franklin county, refused the injunction asked to require the County Committee to recount the ballots cast in the primary election, and dismissed plaintiff's petition.

Judge Thomas H. Paynter has made public a letter to Senator J. C. S. Blackburn declining the invitation to take part in a series of joint debates.

Judge Paynter says that such discovery would interfere with his duties on the Appellate bench.

He also says he is not sure that the discussion would be in the interest of the Democratic party, and that as he and Senator

Blackburn are in accord as to the cardinal principles of their party it is not clear to him that there is such an issue between them as to require joint discussion.

OF interest to players! The proceeds of the play, David Garrick, to be given by the High School on April 21, is for the benefit of the Athletic Association of the school. The players are working hard and hope to present something all will enjoy. As is the body—so is the mind.

IN ORDER to get the INTERIOR JOURNAL to its readers earlier we begin this morning to print it in the forenoon rather than the afternoon. It is more convenient, as well or more satisfactory, to get the paper out in the afternoon but the recent change of schedule of the L. & N. necessitates the change. We now go to press about 8:30 A. M. but items of minor importance should be sent in the afternoon before.

THE BEST OF ADVERTISING MEDIUMS.—"Please withdraw my ad. for a horse. Responses have come from Grant, Jessamine, Lincoln, Boyle, Mercer and other counties and it will require an extra stenographer to answer them all. For goodness sake say that I have bought a horse and wouldn't feed another if he was presented to me without money and without price. The result shows one thing very plainly that the I. J. is widely read and an advertising medium that can't be beat," writes Mr. W. P. Walton from Lexington. His "ad." was a five line local and it appeared only once. It pays to advertise when you advertise in the I. J.

I WILL send off laundry on Tuesdays instead of Wednesdays hereafter. Ed Wilkinson.

BAUGHMAN.—Mrs. Harry C. Baughman, who was Miss Georgia Barnes Wray, of this place, died at her home near Hustonville at 11:30 last night of a complication of troubles. Funeral services will be held at the home at 1:30 to-morrow, Saturday afternoon, by Rev. G. W. Mills. Interment in Buffalo cemetery about 4'. A more extended notice of this excellent woman will appear next issue.

ABOUT EASTER.—This year Easter Sunday comes on April 23rd. But few times in the 19th and 20th centuries has Easter been so belated. In 1810 it fell on April 22, and on the same date in 1821, and again 1832. In 1848 it came on April 23, and in 1856 on April 24. The latest Easter recorded in the two centuries was in 1886, when it fell on April 25th. There will be but two more Easters on April 23 in the 20th century, in 1916 and 2000. In 1943 it falls on April 25th. Last year it came on April 3. The earliest Easter recorded in the two centuries thus far was in 1818, when it fell on March 22.

IN NEIGHBORING COUNTIES.

WOOD WILKES.

Trial Record over Crab Orchard track—14 miles in 35.

Sired by Brozzo Wilkes, he by Petoskey, he by George Wilkes, he by Hyskiss's Hambletonian, 3d. Wood Wilkes' 1st dam Katie Crow, by Crow's Snuggler, 2:15 1-4. Katie's Crow's dam by Almont, Jr., he by Col. West's Almont, 3d. Wood Wilkes' 2nd dam by Hambrion's Chief, 3d. dam by McIntyre's Denmark. Will make the present season at my place on Somerset pike, 1-1/2 miles from Stanford, at $10 to insure a living colt. Wood Wilkes is a coming 6-year-old, and has all the qualities of a good horse. His colts show speed and an abundance of style. They are big, rangy fellows and step well.

Lien retained on colts till season is paid. Mares traded or sold forfeits insurance and makes season money due. Mares grazed at $2 per month. Care taken to prevent accidents, but not responsible should any occur.

FELIX WHITE,

Stanford, Ky.

DORSEY GOLDDUST 12055.

Full brother to Estelle, 2:19 1-4.

Sired by Zilcadi Golddust 400 by Golddust 150, by Vermont Morgan, dam by Zilcadi, an Imp. Arabian, 3d. dam by Zilcadi's dam, a 10-year-old gelding by Golddust, 3d. dam by Florence by Golddust. Mingo Chief, a son of Gaff's Morgan, making him an intensely inbred Morgan stallion, descending from Justin Morgan on both sides, the best family of road stallions known.

Dorsey Golddust is a dark bay, black points, full 16 hands, weighs 1,200 pounds. A proven and uniform breeder of high-class road and Eastern horses, combining all the qualities for harness and saddle, and are in demand at all prices.

To attain this the first requisite is good healthy Nerves, which give capacity for physical and mental development.

PEPPER'S NERVIGOR makes Strong, Calm Nerves, Cures Nervous Debility, Falling Memory, Vital Nerves, Cures Prostration, Sleeplessness and other troubles due to over work, overstrain, diet, tobacco and other causes. Makes rich, healthy blood and repairs wasted nerves.

FOR SALE AT PENNY'S DRUG STORE.

TEMPLE HILL STOCK FARM,

Magee Place, City Limits,

Harrodsburg, Kentucky.

Red Leaf, 4 years-old record 2:22 in 9th heat over one-half mile track. Sire of 5 with records better than 2:20. Champion show horse of Kentucky and leading sire of high-class road horses and teams. $25 to insure a living colt, and a good one. J. H. Thompson, Preachersville.

J. P. McKenzie, of Centralia, Mo., has a team of mules, one of which is 17 hands one inch and the other 18 hands high. He has refused $700 for them.

W. S. Barnes, of Melbourne Stud, near Lexington, was awarded a judgment of $30,000 damages against the Long Island railroad for injury to his race horses in transit.

MULES.—I will be in Stanford, on Tuesday next, 18th, at the stable of J. H. Boone and will pay cash for a carload of mules, large or small, and between four and seven years old. Don't forget the date. A. J. Winkle, Knoxville, Tenn.

Milton Young, of Fayette county, the great thoroughbred horsebreeder, owns 2,250 acres of the best blue-grass land and 700 thoroughbreds, including stallions, mares and colts. Though a republican he is very much of a democrat in his ways and is an ardent admirer of Gov. Beckham.

It is the best interest of the owners of mares and adjoining counties to breed to Red Leaf—1st. Because he is not for sale; I expect to keep him and breed and handle his progeny, and it is very natural with him to work for the sires. His colts at high prices, no matter to whom they belong, 2nd. Because his colts have a reputation and have sold for higher prices undeveloped than those of any stallion in Mercer or adjoining counties. 3rd. Because his colts have taken more premiums than those of any stallion in Mercer or adjoining counties.

4th. Because he has a better record as a race horse, having won 10 out of 13 races, and a better record as a show horse, having won 21 out of 22 shows, than any other horse in Mercer or adjoining counties.

5th. Because Red Leaf is the only horse sired by a horse with a record of 2:18 (C. F. Clay), who has sired 8 colts with records better than 2:13, and with a dam (Mary) 10th best in the world.

6th. Because Red Leaf has sired more high-class, high-priced teams than any stallion in Kentucky in the past two years. 9th. I can show several offers of over $100 for a pair of colts. Some of those colts are five years old, and most of them under three years old.

Now I say if you want a trotter, Red Leaf is bred to trot. As his sire is one of the greatest sires of trotters, as shown in the record books, he is a great producer, and he is one of the world's greatest sires of speed (Red Wilkes), and his sire's dam the greatest brood mare in the world. If you want a show horse, he proves he can get them, with the highest quality, a three-year-old mare made by him, now going through the circuit in regular and sweepstakes and winning 24 out of 26 shows—something equalled only by the world's famous Gypsy Queen. If you want a horse for racing, you can get them with the highest quality, and his filies are sure to be great brood mares. If these are not facts, why not?

I also have a good Black Jack to stand at $8 to insure a living colt.

R. E. GODDARD,

One of the finest English coach horses in the State, will make the present season at my place on Silas Anderson's farm at $10 to insure a living colt, money due when colts get up or mare is parted with, a lien retained on colt until season money is paid.

George Hur is black, four white feet and white face, weighs when in good shape 1,600 pounds, stands full 16 hands, and is six-years-old the coming Spring.

George Hur is model, supple and quick, a splendid driver, a quiet and safe horse at any work. He was sired by Ben Hur Major 273, 3135, Grand Sire Scott 2430, Dam Jennie Beatrice Clydesdale. George Hur has some of the finest colts in the country, has proved to be a sure foal getter.
